ing-Anglo-Russian Agreement-Whole Cities and Towns Destroyed - A British Protect-LONDON, June 5 .- The cabinet to-day

Hacussed Irish coercion for two hours, but failed to reach an agreement. Earl Spencer, in an interview with Mr. Giadstone yesterday, stated that an irreducible minimum of spercion he considered undispensable for governing Ireland. He showed by his absence from the council to-day that he was determined there should be no compromise. The majority of the cabinet support Earl Spencer. Mr. Gladstone is anxious that there shall be no disruption in the face of the general election, asked Mr. Chamberlain and Sir Charles Dilke to accede to Earl Spencer's full demands for one year.

The council was adjourned until Tuesday.

The excitement in ministerial circles ever the crisis is intense. It is said that Sir Charles Dilke and Mr. Chamberlain intend to resign.

OUR PROSPECTIVE TREATY WITH SPAIN MADMID, June 5.—In the chamber of deputies to-day Senor Silvels, minister of justice, replying to a question of a Cuban deputy said there was a good prospect that the Philippine Island would be included in the treaty of commerce with the United States. Both Spain and the United States desired to keep the details of the treaty under consideration a secret to prevent premature debates in the cortes such as upset the previous treaty. GERMAN BEIZURE OF A BRITISH VESSEL

LONDON, June 5.—The National Zeitung, of Berlin, states that the German dispatch of Berlin, states that the German dispatch boat Pommerania while cruising near Norderney, in the North sea, observed a fleet of English vessels flahing in prohibited waters. The Pommerania sent an armed crew, with a formal protest, on board an English steamer accompanying the fleet. The Pommeranian then seized a Yarmouth cutter and towed it into Wilhemshaven where it is now detained. WHOLE CITIES AND TOWNS DESTROYED

LONDON, June 5,-Unofficial reports of London, June 5.—Unofficial reports of the earthquake in Cashmere are of such an alarming character as to make it more than likely that the earthquake will prove ever more disastrous in its effects than the first dispatches stated them to be. Whole cities and towns in "The Vale" are spoken of as destroyed.

An official dispatch from Serinagur gives the number of the killed and wounded by the earthquake there on Sunday and Monday last, as follows:

Killed, 87; wounded, 100. The official reports have not been received yet from the other points in the vale of Cashmere effected by the garthquake shocks, and affected by the earthquake shocks, and until these come to hand the full extent of the calamity cannot be known.

CHOLERA SPREADING BAPIDLY. MADRID, June 5.—The cholers epi-demic is rapidly increasing in extent and virulence at Valencia and other towns in the contheastern provinces of Spain. The peasants continue to chafe under the repeasants continue to chare under the re-strictions imposed by the sanitary cor-dons; and by their willful neglect of the cautions issued by the authorities they invited and desseminate the disease. The reports that cholera has made its appear-ance in this city is denied by the Madrid authorities, but this was also the case at Valencia for many weeks and until further concealment became impossible. Some color is given to the report by the new and stringent sanitary rules which have lately been made and are stringently enforced.

The Dia reports the discovery of three cases of suspected cholera in Madrid one of which was futal.

ANNAPOLIS ANIMATED.

commencement Day Exercises at the Naval Academy-Oration by Prof. EXCITEMENT OVER THE CRISIS IN THE Sumner-Address and Delivery of Diplomas by Secretary Whitney.

ANNAPOLIS, MD., June 5,-The naval seademy grounds presented a bright and animated scene this morning. Many dis-tinguished gentlemen and handsome ladies had assembled to witness the commencement day exercises. The cadets formed at 10:30, and marched without arms to the chapel, where they occupied the side sieles and part of the main body. The board of visitors followed them, and were escorted to the platform by members of the academy board; with them were President Pos. Commander Farquaher, and Prof. Wm. G. Bumner, of Yale, orator to the graduates. Shortly after Scerotary Whitney entered under the escort of Superintendent Ramssy, followed by Commander Elmer, Lieuts. Burwell, Sebrea Burnette, Gov. Lloyd, and others. After the reading of prayers by Chaplain McAllister, Capt. Ramssy introduced Prof. Samner, who said: formed at 10:30, and marched without and others. After the reading of prayers by Chaplain McAllister, Capt. Kamsay introduced Prof. Summer, who said:

"I am not one of those who think that we can get along without war because we do not like it. The time when the world can get along with war is still far in the future, and it is well said that when war must be made the only way to make it is to make it in earmest. You are being trained for the business of war, and you must not misunderstand or misconstrue, your mission. A democratic republic like this, with no dangerous neighbors, will not keep up a big army and navy unless its politicians force it into an ambitious foreign policy. Your services are eagerly sought in war, and you may feel that you are shabbily treated in peace, but do not give way to such a feeling. We must take what we like and what we do not like together. You ought not to feel discouraged if you do not enter the navy, as your training fits you to take a place in other walks of life. To talk about an aristocracy is the navy is foolish, but not altogether senseless. In this country we can better searifice something of millitary efficiency than rou counter to prejudices that are not without sonse, if other nations should neglect their navies as we have ours, pirates would again appear upon the ocean. I hope we are soon to have some American war ships that an American can feel proud to see carry his flag. I am authorized to say on behalf of the board of visitors that they have experienced great pleasure and eatifaction in all your exercises. I have learned many things, and I shall at once suggest to the authorities of Yale College that, in order to improve the instruction, they send the faculty to sea every three years, and I have no doubt this proposition will receive the support of the students, who, as is well known, rule our institution." this proposition will receive the support of the students, who, as is well known, rule our institution."

Prof. Summer closed by wishing the graduates Godspeed in their career. His remarks were frequently interrupted by remarks were frequently interrupted by appliance.

Secretary Whitney was received with cheers. He congratulated the students, speaking of them as a body of men to whom in some degree the nation's interests are entrusted, and told them they had been preceded by a long list of heroes, the records of whose lives make up the brightest pages of our history. He said that by and by our navy will be where it once was and ought now to beat the head of those of all the nations of the earth.

The secretary delivered diplomas to all the honor men, and as he did so the endets applauded loud and long—the applause given graduate Bernstine bolug exceptionally emphatic. It is against the rules to cheer the officers, but the cadets broke the rules and cheered lustily when any of their favorites came in sight.

Secretary Whitney was greeted on arrival by a salute from the guas of the Santee.

Examinations at West Point.

WEST POINT, N. Y., June 5 .- There wore more arrivals to-day then usual but, looking over the list of names on the hotel register, one fails to find "U. S. A." written after any of them. Pive days have come and gone since the examina-tions began and not even a brigadier general, saying nothing of a major gen-eral, has arrived, and the only salute yet was in honor of the board of visitors. No decisions have been reached upon any subject connected with the visiting, any subject connected with the visiting, the members at the regular board meeting contenting themselves for the present with general informal discussions apportaining to the welfare of the academy.

At 4 p. m. in consequence of bad weather the order for the battalion drill was countermanded, and the mounted drill was substituted. There was immediately a rush to the riding hall, and all the seats in the gallery were quickly occupied. The members of the first class soon entered the hall. The drill was in command of Capt.

J. A. Augur. The horses were spirited and the maneuvres of the most exciting character Several eadets fell. Cadet and the mandayres of the most actions character Several eadets fell. Cadet Byron was hurt, and had to be helped out of the hall, but his injuries were not sori-ous. The riding drill concluded the military exercises for the day.

The Typographical Convention. NEW YORK, June 5 .- At to-day's ses sion of the Typographical Convention sion of the Typographical Convention William Briggs, of Washington, who has acted as secretary-treasurer for a year, was voted $1,000. The New York delegates thought $700 was enough, and Mr. Briggs became vexed. He said he would enly accept $800 and give the balance to the union. The recommendation of the Federal Trades Unions to shorten working hours to eight in the twenty-four was referred to the local union. It was ing hours to eight in the twenty-four was referred to the local unions. It was agreed that The Craftsman be adopted as the union official organ. BOATING MATTERS.

The Washington Club Coming Out Strong-Aquatic Prospects Generally There is considerable more interest in soating matters this season than was expected. The Washington Boat Club bas made a big start. It now numbers seventy-five active members, who are filled with energy and determination to succeed. This club has just received a new ceed. This club has just received a new set of sweeps from Donahoe, and the new four-cared shell will be shipped to-day. The boat is named Yenredia. There are a number of boats on hand now, and it is proposed to add to the number during the season. John A. Kennedy is daily coaching the four-cared crow for the coming races at Fredericks. burg next month, and at the national burg next month, and at the national race which takes place at Boston at an early date. It is possible that the club will be represented at these races by both singles and doubles. The selection of the four-cared crew has not yet been made, but will be shortly.

The Columbias are working hard to get into good training. They will enter an eight-car crew for the "Sharpless cup" at Philadelphia next month. The indications are that they will bring it home with them. The crew is nearly the same tions are that they will bring it home with them. The crow is nearly the same as last year. The Columbias and Petomacs will also have entries at the Fredricksburg races, as will the Elizabeths, of Norfolk. The boating season has opened well. The five clubs are in active training. There may be a possibility, if the matter is properly encourgaged, of a regasta among these clubs in the fall.

A great drawback to the Washingtons is their failure to get a suitable site upon which to locate their boathouse. As soon as one is obtained a handsome structure will be erected.

Exiled Irish in London, Liverpool, and Glasgow to Give Their Broth ers at Home Strength to Vote In or Vote Out English Ministers. NEW YORK, June 5 .- The New York

Tablet will publish on Sunday next the following Irish parliamentary pro-gramme: A Dublin correspondent informs us that Mr. Parnell will probably serve in parliament after the next general election as the member from a London district in which the Irish vote predom district in which the Irish vote predominates. Mr. Justin McCarthy will probably represent the Irish district in Liverpool, and Mr. J. P. O'Conser is likely to be sent to parliament by a Glasgow district.
Meanwhile Mr. Parnell is busily enagged with the people of Ireland selecting candidates for various districts. Biggar, the Redmonds, and other members will be candidates in the north of Ireland, and in other districts which are considered doubtful. The districts which have an overwhelming, or even a safe, nationalist majority will take candidates from the new men, who must be called in public life in consequence of the increased national power which results from the late acts extending the franchise and assigning representation to districts in lieu of the rotten borough system.

It will be exceedingly significant if the exiled Irish in London, Liverpool,

Storm Along the Coast.

LONG BRANCH, June 5 .- A heavy rain storm accompanied by wind raged along the coast this afternoon. The wind blew fiercely and considerable damage was done to some unfluished cottages. About noon the wind carried away both masts of the schooner Greyhound as she was nearing the drawbridge over the Shrews-bury river at the Highlands of Naversink. The wind carried the vessel around and drove her hard aground in the channel thus closing navigation.

A motion was made and carried that a committee of five be appointed on permanent organization.

A motion was made and carried that a committee to consist of one delegate from each state and territory to determine the time and place for holding the next annual conference be appointed.

A communication was received from the directors of the Maryland penitentiary, in Baltimore, laviting the conference to visit that institution.

Mr. William Howard Noff, of Cincinnati, obairman of the committee on reports from states, read the committee's reports. Notwithstanding the efforts of the committee it had not been able to ascure reports from all the states. Despite a record of a few failures the report was highly encouraging, and the committee suggested that its life be extended for another year, and that all persons possessing a knowledge of matters of interest be invited to communicate freely.

other year, and that all persons possessing a knowledge of matters of interest be invited to communicate freely.

The report embedded abstracts of the reports from the several states which were read by the secretary of the convention or by delegates from the respective states. The reports from several southern states noted the quite general roduction of the system of hiring out convicts, and the adoption of measures which had a tendency to mitigate the evils of the system. The report from Delaware noted the mitigation of the severity of the whipping system. Blood was rarely drawn at present. The whipping post was in general favor with the people of Delaware for the punishment of petty offences. It was rarely found necessary to administer a second whipping to the same offender.

At 12 o'clock the further reading of state reports was postponed and the morning session adjourned.

The delegates to the conference of charities and corrections to the number of 350 ladies and gentlemen called upon President Cleveland at 1:30 and were received by him in the east room. The delegates were introduced to the President by Commissioner Edmonds. There were no speeches, but the Fresident wook occasion to express to several of the delegates his warm interest in the reformacery works to which they are devoting their time. The reseption over, the delegates took carriages to visit the District jail, almshouse, and the government insane asylum. asylum.

THE INSPECTING TOUR. The visitors were received at the jail, where they went first, by Gen. Crocker and his assistants and conducted through the edifice. The manner of constructing the trians, mothed of locking cells, and the prison, method of locking cells, and daily lives of the immates were examined into, and the visitors were very much pleased with what they saw. they were driven to the almshouse across the way, where Intendant Stoutenbergh and his wife received the guests and escorted them through these institutions. There were quite a number of intendants of similar institutions throughout the country in the party, and these approved the system followed in the management of the institutions and took notes of what they saw for future use. After the in-spection Mrs Stoutenbergh spread a lunch for the visitors, after the discussion of which the visitors returned to the city. THE EVENING SESSION.

No District Pensioners Dropped. The statement published in a morning aper that the names of 200 pensioners in this city who had been illegally drawing pensions had been dropped from the rolls is denied. Mr. Sidney L. Wilson, the pension agent of the District, states that pension agent of the District, states that it is an entire misapprehension of the facts, as the names of 181 pensioners in this District who have died since 1882 had been dropped from the rolls. In the official report it is plainly stated when death occurred in each case, and when the last payment was made. In many the last payment was made. In many instances the government owes the estates of these pensioners for the time clapsing between the last payment and the date of the death. Air. Wilson states that it is difficult for a widow who has married to continue to draw a pension, as she has to bring two reputable witnesses four times a year to take each that she has not married, and has to swear to that herself.

The Pilots' Protest.

The Pilots' Association of this District, embracing all river in this District and Alexandria, held their regular meeting last evening at Bauor's Hall. The delast evening at Bauor's Hall. The de-cision of the local inspectors in the case of William A. Moore, charged with ob-taining a pilot's license under false rep-resentations, was discussed at length, and as it is not the privilege of the associa-tion to appeal the case, they decided to ask special permission of the Secretary of the Treasury to be permitted to make the appeal on the ground of disastisfac-tion expressed as to the investigation as equidated by the local inspectors.

Secretary Lamur's Durk Order. Several rumors have been current for the past few days regarding the Interior Department. It is said that the civil service law is not being adhered to by the Secretary in the matter of appointments. The Secretary recently issued an order directing that changes be not made pubdirecting that changes have been made lie. Numerous changes have been appointed, but nobody at the department seems to know anything about them, and the trans-actions at the department are shrouded in mystery.

pins and balm tos and mush were among the insuries.

I see him next at Valley Porge, after Brandywine and Germantown, and he and his messmates are starving; country-women come to them, cometimes on horse-back, with pice in large—pies so hard as to endure transpertation like brackests; the blood of his bare feet staining the snows and frosts; but one shirt, and he wranged in a borrowed blanked while that attrit is being washed; taking the breast of that one shirt to make for it wrist-bands and cellars for dress parades. In these conditions I see him, a boy-cheerful, frm, dauntiess—inspiring with courage and unquenchable patriodian the little band of dying mon who there held by our hanner where Rherty for man was being born, under it, in blood, agonies, and teers.

The next gainpes I give you of this man is when he is in a market house at sunrise, dressed in blue-mixed stockings, coarse blank coat, and other garments it proportion. He has chickous in one hand and a basket of vegenbles in the other, and is voluntearing to old now and grey-baired, and his person and qualities at this period are delinested by Wirt about thus: "Without fancy—voice dry and hard—attlitudes oritomist a waward—his gestures one unform, perpendicular swing of the right arm, copied from the handle of the town pump—incapable of navo ribatoric, and disdaming all flowers."

But this boy—this man was, when he carried home the time boy's turkey, one of the greatest lawyers of his of any other age, and was the most illustrious junge who ever delivered udgments in the Inglish tongue. He was chief Justice Marshall.
